Company Description – Arjo Systems Limited

Arjo Systems is a technology company specializes on electronic identity and e-ticketing solutions. Well known solutions including electronic passports, travel documents, identity documents and identity cards for governments all over the world. Our Asia Pacific Headquarter in Hong Kong is now expanding and will like to invite enthusiastic individuals to join our team for design/develop/supports of e-ID and e-ticketing solutions (e.g. electronic passports, identity cards, systems for production and reading of identity documents) for our local and worldwide customers.

Solution Developer / Analyst Programmer

Responsibilities:

- Perform program coding, debugging, testing, documentation and user support for identity card and electronic passport systems of our potential and existing customers local and worldwide.
- Assist Senior Solutions Specialist in requirement collection, systems analysis and design
- Provide technical support for users on ad-hoc tasks

Requirements:

- No experience or less than 2 year experience in application development
- Degree holder in Computer Science, Computer Engineering or related disciplines
- Interest and proficiency in Java programming and/or C++/C#, .NET, and database (MS-SQL) application development
- Interest and/or knowledge in information security like smartcards, PKI and cryptography
- Energetic, self-motivated, able to work independently and is a good team player with good analytical and trouble-shooting skills
- Enjoy learning new technologies and is a fast learner
- Good command of English
- Frequent travel for overseas project is required

We welcome those who do not have related industry knowledge or experience to join us. Training and certifications will be provided for successful candidates as part of working with us. While candidates must be a team player with abilities to work and communicate with people from various cultures from different countries and professional backgrounds. Candidates will have the opportunity to travel overseas frequently (including South Asian and European countries) to conduct project and system implementation services.

Benefits:

- Five-day work
- Attractive bonus and compensation package
- Comprehensive travel insurance, healthcare and dental, benefits

Interested candidates can fax/email us your application letter in English, your expected salary and your full resume (and transcript for fresh graduates) to 3199-4377 or hr@arjosystems.com